セイロン紅茶

Tea, which was first produced in China, in the 17th century, was first used as a mysterious medicine, from the east. It is now proved, that tea contains many kinds of substances, beneficial to health. Caffeine and catechin, most notable chemicals in black tea, is in the fore-front in the battle against cancer, and prevents proliferation, and strengthens heart functions, stimulates blood circulation and central nerve system, and enhances brain's ability to think.

Black tea, relieves stress. Also, it was tasted and found, that brain waves are much more relaxed, after drinking tea.
